Evening Classes In Business Ed To Be Offered Jan. 13

The Palm Beach County Vocational School, in cooperation with Pelon Morris, Principal of Belle Glade High School, is planning to offer evening instruction in the field of Business Education, according to Kenneth F. Johnson, Director of Vocational Education for the county.

Classes will continue with a new term beginning January 13, Monday evening at the Belle Glade High School in the typing room. If sufficient interest is shown, classes may be started in beginning, intermediate and advanced typing, beginning and advanced bookkeeping, business English and Gregg Shorthand. Shorthand classes will meet two nights a week from 7:00 to 10:00 on Monday and Thursday.

Typing classes will meet two nights a week from 7:30 to 10:00, every Monday and Thursday. Advanced bookkeeping will meet one night a week from 7:00 to 10:00 every Tuesday evening. Beginning Bookkeeping will meet from 7:00 to 10:00 on Thursday evening. Business English will meet one night a week from 7 to 10, every Wednesday evening.

There is no tuition fee; however, there is a small registration fee and students must furnish their own supplies.

This instruction is part of the School Board's Vocational Education program and is for adults 16 years of age or over who are not regularly enrolled in high school. The classes are tentative to a minimum enrollment of 15 persons.

Those interested in this instruction are requested to attend an organizational meeting at Belle Glade High School, 7:00 Monday evening January 13, 1964, or phone Wayne Fortenberry, 6-5563 or 6-5554 before 5:00 p. m. at Belle Glade High School.

Corn Price Holds, Beans Sky High

Beans, if there were any beans in quantity, would be bringing a good price to the grower along about this time of the year. Last week with beans real scarce the price jumped to $0.60 and $0.50 per 30 pound hamper.

Corn this week is staked at $3.25. This is an excellent price for the grower who can pay the fertilizer bill with prices like that. Celery is selling at normal prices for the Holidays.

Pahokee Grads On Winning Grid Teams

Don Thompson and Alva Early, members of the Arkansas A&M football team that won the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference with a 9-1 record, have been visiting their parents over the holidays. Charles Hayes, another PHS graduate and member of the Champion "Bull Weevils" was a unanimous choice as an "ALL-AIC" performer at end.

THE FARM FRONT

BY DOYLE CONNER
FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Reports and analyses coming to my desk these days indicate 1964 will see the beginning of a new boom era in our American economy.

Outlining what we can expect by 1970, only seven years ahead, U. S. News & World Report stresses the following:

A population of 210 million, up 20 million from the present total. Gross national product around 750 billion dollars, a rise of 175 billion.

Average family income at $8,800 a year, up $1,100.

Auto output at 10 million a year, compared with 7½ million now.

Employment 88 million for a gain of 10.3 million.

More than 7 million youths in college, up 2.6 million, and high school enrollment up 20 per cent.

Some 140 million people living in 212 metropolitan centers. That's more than 65 per cent of the population on less than 9 per cent of the land area.

In addition, the westward movement of people will be continuing and by 1970 some 37 million will be living in Mountain and Pacific Coast states.

Farms will continue to lose population, central cities will be static but suburbs and urban areas will expand.

That adds up to a lot of growth and changes in the relatively short period of only seven years, but the general outline seems to be pretty well confirmed by other estimates.

We can expect to feel the effects of such broad expansion here in Florida, and you can look for our agribusiness to be sharing in it.

The prospects for a new boom ahead don't mean that we'll be having smooth sailing and fair days all the time. Not by a long shot. Many of today's problems will be intensified and we'll be facing new ones as time goes on.

For instance, even though employment increases, it is expected the total unemployment rate will not drop much.

Concerning employment, I noted recently an interesting report that some alert businessmen are capitalizing on the inflexible retirement practices of others. Most firms are reluctant to hire people over 45 and automatic retirement at 65 is typical business practice.

"This is a good time for those firms which follow the above practice to see whether or not changes should be made," says the weekly Washington report of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

It is a well known scientific fact that people age at different rates—one person may be old at 35, another young at 75. Any retirement policy which is based solely on chronological age is therefore bound to be wide of the mark in many instances."

Some firms regularly hire older men, the report continues, and even men well past retirement age who can bring to their jobs experience unmatched by younger people.

Firms with flexible retirement policies can therefore gain considerable advantage. . . .

Lyndon Johnson's unusual success in the art of persuasion has been a subject of widespread comment since he became President.

Some observers of the Washington scene have suggested he may try to get all the big farm organizations together on a unified program for agriculture.

I believe many people think that, as the saying goes, it will be a good trick if he can do it.

Nevertheless, I note a start in that direction was made when representatives of eight farm organizations met recently, at the invitation of the National Grange, to try for broad agreement on approaches to farm legislation.

According to one report, results were surprisingly encouraging, the closest approach to a united farm front that has been seen in a long time. . . .

The American Institute of Cooperation notes that egg money flocks of farmers' wives now account for less than 1% per cent of total national egg production. Ten years ago it was more than half.

Few farm wives keep more than 300 hens, but commercial flocks run into big figures. One in California has 750,000 layers, while there are more than 100,000 in some 150 commercial operations throughout the nation.

Hoard's Dairyman expects an increase in pressure to use government payments for cutting retail butter costs. The dairy publication notes that butter consumption is down to 7 pounds per capita. The all-time high was 18.6 pounds back in the depression days of 1934.

Howell Watkins Leaves School Job

County School Supt. Howell L. Watkins steps down and into retirement tonight after 16½ years at the helm of the public school system in Palm Beach County.

A native of Georgia and graduate of Emory University, Atlanta, he came here in 1933 from Fort Myers High School to become principal of Palm Beach High School, a position he held till 1948 when he was elected superintendent.

During his tenure, the county school system has grown from 14,117 students and 628 teachers, to some 48,000 children and 2,189 teachers today.

During this period, the county school budget has climbed from $4,064,924 to $33,896,035. Starting salaries for beginning teachers Rank 11, have increased from $2,000 per year in 1948 to $4,600 today.

Watkins announced his retirement, effective Dec. 31, in November. His term expires January, 1965. Gov. Farris Bryant has named school business manager John W. Martin to fill the term.—Palm Beach Post.

Cattlemen Meet Next Thursday Eve

An interesting program is planned and it is hoped you will come and enjoy this program, good food and fellowship.

Freeze Hits 10 Pct. Louisiana Cane

NEW ORLEANS—Louisiana sugar cane farmers, facing the possibility of a warm snap, worked Monday to salvage a $15 million, 80,000-ton crop of frozen sugar cane that stood in fields.

A series of freezes during the past two weeks hit the cane. Experts said if a warming trend occurred, the cane would deteriorate rapidly.

Lloyd Iz Lauden, agronomist and field representative of the American Sugar Cane League, said about 10 per cent of the 800,000-ton crop was standing when the cold waves hit.

"Cane growers are doing everything possible to harvest this frozen cane before it deteriorates or goes bad," he said. "Whether there will be any substantial loss of cane left standing in the field will depend, to a large extent, on the daily temperatures between now and Jan. 10."

Earlier in the season, high winds and rain knocked down a record amount of sugar cane in the state.

Why should you buy

U. S. Savings Bonds when there are so many other good investments?

To help your country is one answer—and a good one.

But Bonds have other advantages that make them
worth your consideration:

For instance, they offer you just about the easiest way to give money: either with the Payroll Savings Plan where you just ask your employer to put part of your wages aside toward a Bond or through regular purchase of Bonds at your bank.

Another unique advantage of U. S. Savings Bonds is the way they stick with you. You can get your money any time.

But if you're like most people,
you'll hang on to your Savings
Bonds for the big things you want in your future.

And, of course, Bonds are safe investment—as long as there's a United States of America.

Which brings us back to you. You say, "Bonds help defend freedom at a time when the enemies of freedom are stronger than ever."

Buy Savings Bonds. The banks or savings institutions that sell them don't charge you a penny for the service.

Keep freedom in your future with

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

New 3 3/4% interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new 3 3/4% interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to 2 3/4% for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra 1/2% from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my H Bonds mature, will they keep earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic 1/2% increase makes it unnecessary—and almost unnecessary—to sell your old Bonds to replace your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at 75% face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $156.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you want automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installment are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace and security—money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

Loan Groups Are Making Record

ORLANDO — The 129 savings and loan associations in Florida are well on their way to establishing an all-time record year in mortgage lending during November compared to previous months in 1963. Total loans closed during the first 11 months of 1963 amounted to more than $831.5 million. This surpasses the record for total loans closed for an entire year by $5 million, which was set in 1962.

The League explained further that in November a total of $69,581,000 in loans was closed. Although this is $15 million less than the amount in October, it is a record high figure for the month of November.
